Wrap Up

AuctionsPlus prices are remaining strong while OTH pricing has changed very little over the last month. Processors are still in demand for sheep but managing to secure numbers without rising their prices. Saleyards are remaining consistent and NSW awaits rain to kick all grazing crops into gear. Goats are still on the move but are not receiving the sky high prices as the last few months. While its good to see the wool market remain strong and holding its own. Its also great to see so many quality sheep at all the local shows. With big local numbers supporting these shows.

Wrap Up

As we approach June with some cold weather, saleyards and AuctionsPlus are seeing reduced numbers in the past few weeks. Saleyards are seeing steers make up over half the yardings with strong competition being firm to a touch dearer. AuctionsPlus has remained very strong with a lot of Northern and Western Qld cattle coming available on the market. Prices have been strong without being overly dear. Plenty of female purchasing options within this market. We are still getting plenty of interest for future oats crops in Southern Qld and NSW.
